UAC Key Date Reminder

Details of all semester 1, 2026 courses offered by UAC's participating institutions are now available, so it's a perfect time to get started on your UAC application if you haven't already. Remember, if you apply by 30 September, you'll avoid a significant increase in the application fee.

- 5 September - Schools Recommendation Scheme applications Close
- 30 September - Early Bird fee deadline
- 18 November - Educational Access Scheme Applications Close for December Round 2
- 18 December - ATAR released
- 23 December - December Round 2 offers Release

UAC Schools Recommendation Scheme

Applications Close 5 September

The Schools Recommendation Scheme (SRS) is one way institutions make early offers of undergraduate admission to Year 12 students. They do this by using criteria other than (or in addition to) the ATAR.

Each institution has its own policy for determining SRS eligibility and making offers. For example, you may also have to submit an EAS application institution-defined dates, or attend a school in a particular region.

SRS is not available for all courses. The institution-specific SRS criteria detail any exceptions.

Have a back-up plan: Pathways to Uni

UAC always recommends that, when you choose your course preferences, you include a 'back-up' course; that is, a course you are confident you'll be offered a place in and will be happy to study if you miss out on offers for your higher preferences. For example, you could include a diploma course in a similar area of study as your preferred degree course. You could then use your diploma studies as a stepping stone to the degree: you may even be able to move straight into second year. Pathways to uni.

ATAR Myths Busted

HSC students hear a lot of confusing messages about the ATAR, so UAC's ATAR expert, Dr Helen Tam, has busted the top 5 myths.

University of Sydney ARTiculate Ancient History | Ethical considerations for the care and management of human remains in museums and the field

2 September

What constitutes the respectful and dignified care and display of human remains? As attitudes keep shifting, how do we, as museum curators and archaeologists, sensitively navigate the many different historical and contemporary perspectives and opinions? This talk will draw on the latest research underway at the Chau Chak Wing Museum into the ethical care, treatment, interpretation and display of human remains, with a particular focus on Egypt. It will consider the perspectives of researcher, museum visitor, descent communities and museum professionals, as well as different cultural contexts and the ancient dead. The talk will also address the legacies of colonial collecting practices inherited by museum curators, as well as other ethical issues posed by modern scientific analysis and restitution.

UTS Early Entry Program - Applications Close Soon

Closes 8 September

If you are a Year 12 student, the program allows you to apply for most UTS courses before your HSC/IB exams, using your Year 11 results.

If your application is successful, you will receive a provisional offer. You will still need to complete your exams, as well as achieve a minimum ATAR depending on your course.

The UTS Early Entry program is open to high school students currently studying an Australian Year 12 qualification or International Baccalaureate (November exams only within the Oceania region).

NSW Police Application Process

Once you have successfully completed the University Certificate in Workforce Essentials (UCWE) you may be eligible to submit an application to the NSW Police Force. Once received, your police application will be allocated to a Recruitment case officer who will get to work processing your application.

1. Background Checks

Upon receipt of your police application your recruitment case officer will conduct a number of background checks including detailed background vetting, employment checks and a more thorough investigation of your history.

2. Physical & Medical Assessment

As a police recruit applicant you will be required to undertake a number of physical tests to determine your ability to perform the physical demands inherent to operational policing. You will also be invited to attend a full medical assessment including a complete medical history. The assessment will be conducted by an external provider and will assess your medical fitness to perform the inherent role and functions of an operational police officer.

3. Interview

The final stage of the recruitment process is a formal face to face interview. The interview will be conducted by a three (3) member panel and will provide an opportunity for the NSW Police Force to assess you against a number of core qualities. The interviews will be conducted at a number of metropolitan and regional locations.

4. Ranking & the Eligibility Pool

Successfully completing all requirements of the recruitment process will see you progress onto the eligibility list to await an offer for placement into the Associate Degree in Policing Practice.

People like you who care enough to make a difference - join us on exciting projects which span everything from ocean litter to bushfire resilience, and citizen science to climate change.

We exist to strengthen the health of communities and ecosystems for mutual benefit, across Australia. Through our work, we're building a more harmonious and helpful relationship between people and nature.

People tell us that they want to play their part to re-balance nature, but they don't know where to start. So, for almost 40 years we've been working to give people that opportunity through hands on volunteering. Now, we're growing our work to empower anyone across Australia to take action for nature through practical activities.
